

Other british meals

Fish'n'chips is one of the most traditional meals in England usually cod or haddock fish wrapped with batter and served with chunky chips and usually with mushy peas

Roast beef is very traditional and the British are well known to have it its cooked until its pink inside making it very succulent and usually in Sunday roasts.

Toad in the hole has nothing to do with a toad, its just a giant yorkshire pudding and can be small with british sausages cooked inside it served with gravy too.

